OWNER · KELLY FRAGER PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT & TRAINING

As owner of Kelly Frager Professional Development & Training, Kelly partners with organizations to help them optimize the power of their people through training and consulting. Her collaborative relationship with her clients, customization of her message for professional realness & relevancy, and genuine, dynamic delivery style are the distinguishing aspects of her business.

Kelly has spent her entire professional career in the human resources, training and professional development fields. Her clients and employers have ranged from the hospitality industry to professional services firms, with mortgage banking and homebuilding in the mix as well. With every engagement, she sets-out not only to teach, but also to learn from her audience. Over the years and across the industries, she has learned that nearly ALL people want to feel good about where they work and possess a desire to contribute and grow as professionals. This insight has been the motivator for her work.

The same energy and engagement Kelly delivers to her clients and audiences, she also brings to her community. She is currently serving a governor-appointed six-year term as a member of the Board of Trustees at Carroll Community College, where she was formerly an adjunct faculty member. She recently completed three terms on the Board of Directors for Goodwill Industries of Monocacy Valley and is serving her second term on the Penn State Parents Council.

Kelly received a Bachelor of Science degree from Penn State University (We Are!) and earned a Master of Science degree in Human Resources Development from Johns Hopkins University. She is certified in DISC, Driving Forces and Emotional Intelligence through TTI Success Insights. She happily lives in Mt. Airy, MD with her husband Todd and Peloton bike. Her favorite title in life is being called “Mom” by her three grown & flown adult-ish kids who keep her “hip” to the ways of the contemporary work world.
